Description

Here's a nice simple emblem, a T-Rex eating a fish. Even gigantic carnivores need a healthy lunch to continue evolution! Kids like this one because it looks like the dinosaurs they love. Religious zealots like it because they can see a critter just like this at the Creationist Museum. Unfortunately some of the them feel such as strong tie with the "fish" design, they feel threatened by this one. Oh well, they should get over it. This car emblem comes with an adhesive tape attachment.
